

Summer job checklist

A practical start-to-apply guide for high school and college students.

1 Set your search

- Write down your work radius, transportation, start date, and weekly availability.
- Pick two or three role categories: camp, retail, food service, front desk, tutoring, events, or office support.
- Track the company, role, date applied, and follow-up date.

2 Build your resume

- Use school, volunteering, sports, clubs, projects, caregiving, or paid work.
- Show responsibility, service, teamwork, reliability, and follow-through.
- Keep it to one clear page and remove anything you could not explain.

3 Apply in batches

- Start with 8-12 roles, mixing quick applications with better-fit opportunities.
- Adjust your top bullets and skills to match each role's real requirements.
- Follow up after 5-7 business days when contact information is available.

4 Prepare to talk

- Practice a 30-second answer to: Tell me about yourself.
- Prepare one story about responsibility, teamwork, conflict, or a busy situation.
- Know your availability and ask about pay, training, schedule, and start date.

Privacy check

Do not send strangers your Social Security number, bank details, ID photos, payroll forms, or passwords. Confirm the employer and website before sharing personal information. For minors, involve a parent or guardian.

PAID SUPPORT

Optional help

FORMAT	COST	USEFUL WHEN
Resume review	$25	You already have a draft.
Resume + application planning	$45	You are starting from scratch.
Resume + interview practice	$75	You want to prepare what to say.